

Weekly activities timetable week commencing 27th April 2020

We have pulled together a timetable to help you structure your day, this is by no means a mandatory timetable however for those of you that would like to follow a more structured approach to your child's home learning, we hope this helps. The timings are just a suggestion, please do not feel you have to stick rigidly to them or that you have to do all the tasks every day!

We feel that it is important to stress that this timetable is a suggestion of what how the learning could run in your household. It is up to you, as parents, to decide whether you would like to follow the timetable, dip in and out of it or to take the learning tasks and do your own learning plan that suits your family's lifestyle.
